Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out; so where there is no laborer the strife ceaseth.

Food Locker Plant To Open Here Saturday

After months of struggling with delays in the process of building and equipping the Jefferson County Food Locker Plant, the management is now in position to announce that it is ready for operation. In fact, the cooling system facilities have already been applied and the plant is in operation.

The management, through the President D. D. Penley, is announcing a formal opening to take place on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, during the hours of 2 to 4 A. M. At that time the public will be permitted to visit the plant and inspect its frozen locker facilities. Open houses will be observed and plant officials will welcome the visiting public and explain the frozen locker services.

Many of the locker service patrons have had their individual lockers engaged for months. They have been waiting anxiously for the plant to be completed and the equipment installations made. Although difficulty has been experienced by the management in obtaining certain parts, the plant was deemed best to wait until the proper machinery could be obtained and everything put in working order, rather than to resort to any makeshift of temporary installations.

It has been pointed out that those who desire food lockers at the plant, but have not engaged lockers, should make applications for them at once, as there remain only a limited number available.

Old Fairmount Church Moved; Parkwood Now

After more than two years worshipping in a temporary building, once used for a chicken house, the Parkwood Church congregation, organized in December 1944, have, after months of struggle and hard work, moved into their new building of which they can justly be proud.

The Parkwood Methodist Church, located at Mandick and Parkwood Road, 2 miles south of Nichols General Hospital, will hold its opening service on Sunday afternoon, August 3 at 3 o'clock. Rev. B. P. Murphy of the Board of Christian Extension will deliver the message. Also taking part in the service will be Dr. Hester W. Hester, district superintendent and Charles Hutesh, a ten year old boy singer. Rev. Amos Wilson is the pastor.

Formerly Fairmount Methodist Church, located on Bardwood Road at Fairmount, the 50 year old church, abandoned a number of years ago, was with help from the Board of Christian Extension, purchased by the Parkwood congregation and moving of the building began in June of last year. With the aid of interested and willing workers, the building is now a full basement, with a $1,200 heating system which is a cooling system. Everything except the roof of the old church was used to compose the new building. The bell, and the same piano, is expected to be put into use.

This 42 feet by 45 feet structure was erected on the 3 1/2 acres of ground on which is also located a four-room bungalow with full basement and hot water heating system.

In relating the story of Parkwood Methodist Church, Rev. Millett, who started the organization and so faithfully worked toward seeing the completion of a church building, stated that since its organization services have been held regularly each Sunday morning and evening and also Wednesday evenings.

He further stated that 52 have joined membership with the church, 72 are enrolled in Sunday School and the average attendance is 40 at weekly prayer meetings.

The pastor invites other Methodists and their friends to be with them at the opening service.

"WE" ARE THE DEMOCRACY
It has been noticed about considerably, and particularly in political circles, that Mayor Hague has retired. The long time mayor of Jersey City, N. J., Tammany still bags the cash. Kansas City's Pendergast machine has lost a lot of its power. Most control over Chicago and most of the big cities of the country still reside ruthlessly on, more or less.
"We, the People" are still being left out in the cold, simply and mostly because we are not rising up to our might and asserting our political rights as citizens of our democracy. We do not seem to realize that we are unfair to ourselves and to our democratic form of government in standing aloof and many times, refusing even to vote. Political machines are strong, but why contribute to their strength by refusing to work for good government?
It has always been so that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." A democracy cannot work wonders for us, unless we are willing to assume our responsibility as a factor in that democracy. We are the democracy; its life depends upon us and our functions as its units.
The primary is right on us. It is now every voter's sacred duty to "come to the aid" of his country. If he is a Democrat, he should do all he can to see that the best Democratic candidates are nominated. And the same goes for the Republicans in choosing their candidates. Whoever we are we must fight in the primary, and when the primary is over go on from there, fighting for the election of men who are the most likely to be depended upon to do their duty in office.

NOT MUD-SLINGING; OUT OF THE MUD
Since agriculture is basic, and the farmer indispensable, it would seem that he be given the maximum of consideration, particularly since he is, admittedly, doing such a magnificent job in helping to feed the world through and after all wars. In Kentucky, some farms face the main highways, but most of them do not, and it is the back-country farm that, as in other states, has suffered most mud-lane-lane roads. Kentucky, according to the latest census, has 57,265 miles of rural roads (Indiana, our neighboring state, has 81,179). Only 878 miles of these roads in Kentucky are under Federal Control. The others are under state, or local control.
We appear to be well along with our great state-wide highway system—those roads which have made it possible for us to invade from other states—give them ingress—tour or send our farm and other products into other states. We may need more trunkline road work, but we still need betterment in our farm-to-market roads.
Harry Lee Waterfield says, if he is elected Governor, he will do his best to "get the farmer out of the mud." If successful, it will be his credit with his constituents.
No matter who is elected, Kentucky farmers so aided, we believe, will be moved to rise up and call him blessed.

POLITICAL JOB HOLDERS
Eight years ago, there were 887,400 employees on the government payroll.
Today, there are 1,850,000 civilians on the payroll inside the United States.
No one knows why there is such an over-production of political hangers-on.
Certainly, most of them are not needed in the public service. Unemployment has dropped to below normal.

CAPITOL COMMENTS
By David M. Porter
A survey of our State educational system made by Griffiths and Associates has been released by the Governor. It recommended a Medical School for the University of Kentucky, said the University was stressing sports to a point where it was detrimental to the school, and that they should be returned to their amateur standing. It brought out the fact that the lack of school funds in most districts was caused by a low valuation on property that was taxed, for example a home or piece of business property that could be sold for seven hundred dollars and the maximum tax would only bring seven dollars and fifty cents for school purposes.
The primary campaign continues hot and interesting with charges and countercharges and the various candidates are stumping the State courting the voters. In Louisville it was charged by Mayor Taylor that the election machinery was being packed with Clements workers who were replacing those known to be for Waterfield.
The effect of an organization in a campaign is beginning to show with Williams a late starter in the Governor's race showing gains in most sections. He has the State machine backing him and they showed how strong it is in the Senate race last year.
Holman "Peck" Wilson, one of the six candidates for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic primary in last section, I do not believe that either of the candidates will openly slate a ticket, but will tie in with the most popular and strongest candidate in each section.
Congressman Keweenaw Meade of Paintsville is gaining much recognition in Congress. He was appointed to make a survey on the Veterans situation and on his recommendation a bill was passed to increase their allowance while going to school.

Many pretty and useful presents were received by the young couple.
Mr. and Mrs. Otville Stivers had as dinner guests on Sunday, Dr. Kenneth Bowen, Dr. J. W. D. Skiles, Mr. and Mrs. Fielden Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Merchant, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Standford. Mr. and Mrs. Standford were friends in Tyler, Texas, when the men were in camp there.
Mrs. William Ferguson spent last week end with relatives near Harrodsburg.
Mrs. Clifton Kaiser entertained with a dinner on Thursday in honor of the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Anna Reech. The Louisville Automobile Club 25 years ago made a tour through Jefferson County and dedicated this roadway in memory of Henry Waterson and to be known as Waterson Trail. Just recently Media Lane was changed to Waterson Trail.

Wisdom, Understanding
For Our Daily Living
LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 27—Prov. 1:1-7, 12:1-3, 15:1-3, 16:1-3. MEMORY SELECTION—Wisdom is better than knowledge; understanding is better than wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.—Proverbs 4:7.
EDITOR'S NOTE: Lessons adapted from the Bible, as authorized by the International Council of Religious Education, and by permission of the publishers.
By HAROLD L. LINQUIST, D. D., of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.
EDUCATION is so widespread in our day, and so eagerly sought after, that one might assume that the world would soon solve its problems through the cultural attainments of its people.
Why this is not true appears clearly in our lesson; for it is wisdom that the world needs, and wisdom is quite different from the understanding or memorizing of a mass of facts.
Wisdom teaches us how to use knowledge effectively for the glory of God. We see in our lesson:
I. The Meaning of Wisdom (Prov. 1:1-7).
PROVERBS are pithy, useful sayings, which gather up the wisdom of a people in easily remembered form. They are the result of the wisdom of all nations, but reached their highest development among the Hebrews, because they rightly insisted that they must be related to God and worship of him.
We learn in this passage that they are given to us that we may "know" that we have both wisdom and instruction. The growth of knowledge is always a prerequisite to growth in grace—more about God and his will for you, and you will have more of his grace upon you.
Knowledge must be coupled with discernment (v. 1), which speaks of going beyond and below the surface meaning. This will not be an abstract view of the scholarly, but a practical application of truth to life (v. 3). Wisdom results in right living and proper dealing with our neighbors.
The one who has come to this place is ready to give (v. 4) help to others, especially to the young, those of "simple" thinking, who have not yet reached the place where they can get hold of such things for themselves.
Notice that the wise man does not stop at that point, but because he is wise he goes on to more and more understandings, to further receiving and giving out of "sound counsel" (v. 5).
Observe next,
II. The Value of Wisdom (Prov. 1:8-19).
THE character of a man shows up in the things he holds to be valuable. Some cannot see beyond gold and silver. Others seek comfort and convenience, and do not wish to be disturbed in their easy ways.
The wise man knows that for real pleasure of the highest type, for peace of mind and heart, for riches that will last and not bring him into either sin or sorrow, there is nothing like the cultivation of understanding and wisdom.
This scripture affords us the opportunity to say a needed word to young people who are being so easily tempted these days to forego their opportunities for an education, and to rush into the world to make money, more money, yes, the most possible money.
Education seems to be unnecessary, a waste of time and effort. But wait, the years will come and go, and then when it is too late, the realization will come that a golden opportunity was missed, and that doors of usefulness and effectiveness are now closed.
It pays to give time to the cultivation of the mind and of the heart in preparation for life. We are not thinking primarily of the dollars and cents value now, for that is secondary, even though it may be important.
III. The Source of Wisdom (Prov. 1:9, 10; James 1:16).
GOD is the source of wisdom, and it is as a man fears him that he becomes wise. The fear of God is not a matter of fright or terror, but rather a genuine concern that one may do his will and never fail to be obedient to his guidance.
God is always more ready to give than we are to receive. He will not turn us aside, or belittle our efforts; but will, if we ask, give wisdom, and that in no little measure.
Let no man think that he can attain unto true wisdom apart from a right relationship to God. He may have knowledge, but not wisdom. On the other hand, let no man who knows God and serves him go through life hoarding wisdom when all he has to do is to share it with his heavenly Father. Why be poverty-stricken when you can be rich in wisdom and understanding?

New Circular Tells About Potash Problem

The potash problem of Kentucky farms is discussed by Prof. George Roberts, noted soils authority, in a new circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The problem has been brought about largely because crop residues and manure have not been returned to the land in sufficient amounts.

Here is what Prof. Roberts says farmers can do about it:

naturally deficient in potash. If in doubt, use small plot tests on the fields, and have chemical soil tests made.

Grow enough legumes in crop rotations to fix large amounts of nitrogen. Conserve and return to the soil as much as possible of crop residues and manure. Drag pastures at least twice a year to scatter manure dropped on them. Make field tests and chemical tests for need of additional potash.

For alfalfa in rotation on soils that do not supply enough potash for it, apply fertilizer potash for the alfalfa. Don't use manure on the alfalfa, for it retards nitrogen fixation. Use manure on the non-legume crops in the rotation, and as far ahead of the legumes as is practical.

For high-crop crops like tobacco, if enough manure is not available, fertilize liberally with potash fertilizers, and carefully save and protect tobacco stalks for fertilizer. They are best applied about the time spring growth of crops begins.

Keep the soil covered with grass or cover crops to prevent losses by leaching and erosion.

Wash Hands Before Eating Urged as Polio Precaution

Parents are urged to teach children a series of six simple steps before eating as one precaution against polio, particularly during the summer months, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The National Foundation through its local chapter is issuing a series of six simple health rules that should be observed during the summer to help prevent the disease.

Scientific studies, financed by March of Dimes funds, indicate that the hands may be a means of spreading the virus infection through contamination of food, drinks or objects carried to the mouth.

For this reason, a high standard of personal cleanliness should be maintained especially during the polio danger months—late June through September, the National Foundation cautions, adding that fresh fruit and vegetables should be washed well before eating.

TOMATO LATE BLIGHT

Discussing tomato blight again may seem repetitious, but this year's weather so much resembles that of last year, that blight may come again.

There is no real cure for blight after it has come, but preventive measures must be used, started before even the first signs of the disease come. Those measures are spraying or dusting with "fixed" copper, with the object to have the plants completely coated so that the blight germs can get no foothold anywhere.

The fixed coppers are found on the market under the names Cuprocid, COCS, Copper-A, Tri-basic copper, Tennessee 26, and Kopper-S. They come in a concentrated form to be used with water in a spray, 2 level teaspoons per gallon, and in 5 percent dust ready for immediate use. One gallon of spray or pound of dust covers approximately 50 plants. Spraying is vastly to be preferred because of so much better covering, and because spray sticks so much better in wet weather.

To be fully effective, copper application should start when the first cluster of blooms opens, and they should be repeated at intervals of 15 days until at least 3 have been made, but four or even five are better. Particular attention should be paid the lower parts of the plants, as there the blight germs, always present in the soil, are "bounced" onto the plants by rain.

It is of course possible that the late blight may not strike again, but the spraying or dusting will not have been wasted, as such copper application will have protected the plants against the Early Blight, that every year knocks off tomato leaves, always to cause loss from fruit sunburning. Also, because the plants will have been kept vigorous, blooming and fruit-setting will not slacken, but full-sized fruit of high quality and fine flavor will continue being produced until frost ends the tomato-growing season.

High View News

By Mrs. Joe Baete

Last spring during the revival at High View there was a contest between chosen sides, "The Reds" and "The Blues," as to which side would encourage the most folks to attend the meetings. "The Reds" were the winning side. So Sunday after preaching service part of the congregation went to the home of Brother and Sister Schneider for a basket picnic dinner. The losing side furnished the lunch.

Those to enjoy the occasion were Brother and Sister Schneider and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Comm, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baete and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Temple and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dossie Wright and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Young, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright, Elmer and Betty Comm, Betty and Doris Burroughs, Elizabeth Piggett, Charles Stover, Dorothy Chapman, Geneva Brentlinger, Grandma Wright and Kenneth Block. After lunch the evening was spent picking home shoes, soft ball, taking pictures and singing. Each one enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

On Thursday last week the Ladies Bible Class went for an all day meeting in the home of Mrs. Joe Baete. The morning was spent preparing clothing for a box to be sent to the missionaries, a fine lunch was served then an hour of study on the 9th chapter of 1st Corinthians, several secret pal gifts were exchanged and each left complimenting the hostess on how nice the home looks. When we removed the old part and built two new rooms.

Bro. and Sister Harmon and Mrs. Edith Roby have bought a farm in Indiana.

Bro. and Sister Schreiner and children will start this Monday morning for a two weeks camping trip through Smokey Mountain and other places interest.
